Alert from Parents Advocating School Accountability, San Francisco

www.pasasf.org

Edison Schools' website lists an opening for a principal at San Francisco's controversial, troubled Edison Charter Academy. Apparently Vince Matthews, who was principal during the spring 2001 controversy over the San Francisco school district's severing of Edison's contract, is leaving. Edison Charter Academy posted the lowest scores in the school district in the most recent test results, spring 2001.
